

2023 Webinar Series on Serving Families who are Experiencing Domestic Violence

The Pennsylvania Coalition Against Domestic Violence (PCADV) is partnering with the Office of Child Development and Early Learning (OCDEL) for its 2023 webinar series to provide family support workers and home visitors with strategies on important topics relating to domestic violence and your work.

Registration Link for both the Webinars & Community of Practices
<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/FBQ93PL>

Wednesday, February 8, from 9 a.m.-11 a.m. It's More than Physical Safety: Safety Planning for Domestic Violence Survivors

During this interactive webinar, participants will develop (and practice!) skills for talking with clients about their safety needs. These skills are applicable for domestic violence survivors who are still in contact with the people who have abused them and those that are not.

Wednesday, June 7 from 9 a.m.-11 p.m. Talking about Safety with Survivors who Use Substances

During this interactive webinar, we will build on the skills learned in February to develop skills related to safety planning, with a focus on supporting survivors who use substances. There are specific safety considerations that affect this population, especially for those in caregiving roles. Participants will have an opportunity to identify tools and practice skills during our time together!

Community of Practice on Domestic Violence

The Community of Practice focused on domestic violence will continue in 2023. Community of Practice sessions are open to anyone who wants to share ideas, ask questions, provide feedback, and receive support related to the crucial role you play in screening for, responding to, and empowering people affected by domestic violence.

Communities of Practice sessions will be held on February 15, 2023 and June 14, 2023 from 9-10:30 a.m.

